NATIONAL ELECTION

Illinois were regarded by the republican leaders as an indication of what might be expected from the states further west when the figures begin coming in.

The Herald, Times, Evening World and Evening Sun announced that Hughes is elected and the American says its returns indicate it. The Times says Hughes has carried all New England, Illinois and Indiana as well as the state of New York.

Connecticut's seven electoral votes will be cast for Hughes with three-fourths of the vote counted. Hughes had 70,943, Wilson 64,602. The republicans have re-elected Governor Holcomb, Senator McLean and at least three of the five congressmen.

Republican candidates for Maine's six electors were elected according to returns from 403 out of 635 precincts. Hughes had 54,067, Wilson 50,242.

Congressional election returns were insufficient at 11 o'clock tonight to indicate what would be the complexion of congress. At that hour republicans had gained two senators and indications were they would gain at least three more. They must win nine seats to control that body. Although republican party leaders predicted tonight the democratic majority of 23 in the present house would be wiped out early returns showed a net gain of one for the republicans.

Soon after midnight the republican national committee claimed California, Connecticut, Delaware, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Maine Maryland, Massachusetts, Michigan, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia and Wisconsin. That made a total of 284 electoral votes, 18 more than the necessary 266 for an election. President Wilson went to bed at 12:30 o'clock with his campaign.

New York, Nov. 8.—Senator William Sulzberger, chairman of the democratic senatorial campaign committee, gave out the following statement at 12:15 o'clock this morning: "The republicans claim that they will control the United States senate is absurd. Returns received by us up to this hour indicate the loss of only two democratic senators and a gain of four. This does not include the democratic senator in Indiana where the result is still in doubt."

Worth Careful Thought

Do you read the label to know whether your baking powder is made from cream of tartar or, on the other hand, from alum or phosphate?

Royal Baking Powder is made from cream of tartar, derived from grapes, and adds to the food only wholesome qualities.

Other baking powders contain alum or phosphate, both of mineral origin, and used as substitutes for cream of tartar because of their cheapness.

Never sacrifice quality and healthfulness for low price.
